CLASS OF 1965

CHERYL HARDY MALOY

I married Marlon Maloy in 1967. After his graduation, we moved to Bloomfield, New Mexico. It is a small town in the four-corners area of Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, and Utah. We have raised 6 girls, all of whom are married, and we have a son who is still in high school. I have many grandchildren who keep me quite busy. Marlon taught school for 25 years, then retired, and he now builds cabinets. I work with juvenile first offenders in Farmington. It's a part time job and mostly I do it out of my home. I love being at home, where I can garden, read, quilt, and go for walks. I do a lot of church work with children and I love genealogy. We have goats, pheasants, peacocks, geese, a dog, etc. There's always something to do around here.

KATHLEEN VAUGHT FARNER

I live in Vashon, Washington and am a Professor of Music at Pacific Lutheran University. My husband, Richard, is Chairman of Keyboard Studies at Pacific Lutheran University. I teach horn and perform with the Camas Wind and Lyric Brass Quintet. My musical interests extend beyond the modern-day valved horn to the natural horn and performance practices of the Baroque and Classical period. I enjoy concertizing on both instruments, (but not at the same time) with my husband, pianist Richard Farner. My many years with the Midsummer Musical Retreat have fostered a special interest in working with adult amateur musicians. When I am not performing or teaching, I can be found walking Bailey, (the world's most wonderful yellow Labrador) or trail riding on my retired show horse, Blue.

My husband, L.E. and I will soon be celebrating our 38th wedding anniversary. Our daughter, Kirstie, 37, and her husband are both artists in New Mexico and are the parents our only grandchild, Cesca, 5. Our son Logan, who is 35, lives in Seattle. He is a graphic artist who works in computer animation. After many adventures, such as living in Belgium for six years while L.E. was in the Navy, and a busy consulting career in finance and economics, we have totally shifted gears. We have retired to rural Wheeler, Oregon and have opened an eclectic apothecary/ liquor store and cyber cafe.

After high school, I married, and had two children, Akemi and Christopher. I am now divorced. I worked for 25 years as an interior designer in Hawaii, and brought up my two children. After that, I moved to Northern California and live in the small town of San Carlos. My daughter, Akemi, finished college and married Shayne, so I then became a mother-in-law. My son, Chris, moved to Japan, then decided that living with Mom wouldn’t be a bad idea, so he moved back to San Carlos. I am again designing but now in Northern California. When I moved to the Bay Area, I reconnected with Michael Yoshida and Wendy

Hirota Tsuji. Wendy and I are now collaborating on a product design which will soon be showing throughout the US. Lindaueda@yahoo.com

MARILYN LUM WILD

After finishing college at the University of Washington, I married John Wild, a career Army officer. Recently, we celebrated our 35th wedding anniversary. After spending many years living in various parts of the US and Europe we eventually settled in the area of Northern Virginia and Maryland. We have a daughter, Robin, 27, who works for LL Bean. I was a practicing Dental Hygienist for many years, but I am no longer doing that. We have always loved antiques and old things, and at one point, I had an antique resale business. Recently, we acquired a small 130 year-old house in the historic district in Annapolis, Maryland, which we have been fixing up. We enjoy looking for old fixtures, such as doorknobs, lights stained glass windows, etc. Old houses always need tweaking, so fixing things and fixing them again seem to occupy most our time and, unfortunately, money. We like to do much of the work ourselves. Some of you may recall my mother. She passed away a few years ago, but until the end, she would often chuckle with remembrances of YOUR antics. (She didn't chuckle much at mine!!). She would be so proud to realize all that you have become. Should any of you come to the DC or Baltimore area, PLEASE, PLEASE do call me, especially since I am not going to the reunion. Come for the seafood from the Chesapeake.

JOHN ISHIKAWA

I'm an engineer with the Navy. My title is "Lead General Engineer," but my job has actually been as a facilities planner for the last 24+ years. In November, I will have a total of 25 years service. The job takes me to various Navy bases throughout the Pacific, since we are the planners for the Navy. I've had the opportunity to see places, such as the Philippines, Korea, Guam, Singapore, and Diego Garcia, a tiny atoll in the middle of the Indian Ocean. We also were able to spend 7 years in Japan, where I worked as the planner at the Naval Air Facility Atsugi, which is located about 35 miles southwest of Tokyo.

My wife, Ann, and I have four daughters; Akemi, 26, Arynn, 24, Raimi, 22, and Clarynne, 20. All either live on the mainland or are attending college there. "No more teenagers."

Apart from work, I've been involved in various youth sports such as soccer, tennis, and softball when the kids were growing up. Most recently, I was the youth advisor for our Jr. YBA group at the Mililani Hongwanji. I'm still involved with the group even though I turned over the duties to new advisors this past year, but I should be out of it this summer. I'm still an active member of the temple. My wife and I became Buddhists. We were both raised as Christians, but switched when the kids were born.

I don't have too many hobbies, except doing yard work and trying to jog several times a week. Good that the bones are ok and I don't have too many pains.

I have now lived in San Francisco 35 years, longer than being in Hawaii, but I still refer to Honolulu as "home". August 1st will mark 23 years with same Architectural/Interior Design practice with partner Frank Frost. We have done projects in Bay Area, LA, New York, Japan, and recently went to Kathmandu. That was definitely the most exotic place to work. The two years before Kathmandu were challenging but lots of fun, travelling to Germany, Venice and Antwerp every month working on industrial design for a yacht. It was a global experience that has made us reconsider everything about how we want to work. Architecture and building is changing every day to new levels of craziness, but at the same time offers amazing possibilities. Coincidentally ran into Linda K on an Airpass flight from SF. We talked so much that we started a new company as a lark, designing products together. Our Hawaiian prints will be launched this fall with Perennials Fabrics. We tell everyone that we went to kindergarten together, and somehow this works. Best bonus is being able to go to the Side Street Inn, Ono Hawaiian and eating malasadas at the beach.

PATRICIA HALLER (Gay Bains-Jordan)

I am married and have two children, Renee and Bill, and two grandchildren, Dylan – 3 yrs and Eric – 1 _ years old. I was proud when I earned my Business Management degree but now that I have two grandchildren, I'm even more proud! They are the lights of my life; they double my gray hairs and at the same time increase my laugh lines. Our baby at home is a black 62-pound Standard Poodle. I've been married 8 years to Ron after leaving a previous marriage of 26 years. Ron and I plan on an early retirement and hope to live part-time on Oahu within the next two years or so, recklessly planning, perhaps, to live in Waianae. We will keep our 6,500 square foot too large home in the foothills of a 12,000-foot high mountain in Orem, Utah. We climb that mountain every year. (Now, ask me whether or not I make it to the top.) I still work as the Senior (don't you hate that title now?) Technical Recruiter for a software development firm. We have several home businesses: PR Accounting Specialists, Arizona Totem Post-Itz, and a number of rental properties. We "collect" a few cars such as our red 2002 racing Corvette, a red 2002 Mustang convertible also equipped for racing, a red Miata convertible, and our Winnebago camping van. Our hobbies include traveling, playing with our grandkids, photography, etc., and – oh! – did I mention our grandkids? All in all, it's a good life but time for me to move back home to Hawaii, perhaps to Waianae.

I graduated from the UH with a BA in Asian Art History and worked in various jobs in Honolulu among them as a PR director for a major hotel. Later on, I became a real estate broker and opened a company with someone who was a real estate developer. I moved to Santa Monica, California where I eventually opened a jewelry boutique in an exclusive area. In 1994, I decided to move to Eugene, Oregon. I married Charles Cross and we bought 20 acres of land and built a house. Since then I have been retired but do investments in real estate and securities. I keep busy as a volunteer at the University of Oregon museum of art as a docent and puppeteer, do Chinese brush painting, am a member of various community organizations, practice tai chi and dance Argentine tango. My husband, Charles (who is also retired, teaches Aikido, does calligraphy (shodo), likes fishing, hunting and hiking. We enjoy traveling and learning about different cultures. We don't have children but have a spoiled Siamese cat named Mr. Smoky

ELTON LEE

I went to college in Oregon with Pat & Fred back in '66 and stayed in Oregon for a few years. I joined the Army Reserve while I was there. I graduated from Portland State University, earning a BS in Business. Traveled back and forth from Oregon to Hawaii. Altogether, I believe I lived in Oregon for about 15 years. I have one son, a graduate of Iolani, whom I have raised as a single parent, since he was three years old. I managed the Golden Dragon at the Hilton Hawaiian village in late '70s. I got my Real Estate license and sold residential & land investments in Las Vegas. I have my Broker's License, but I am not currently using it. I was also a salesman for Diversey Wayndotte in Chemical sales. I started my own company in '88 called Chester Fried of Hawaii. I did a branded concept in Fried Chicken programs. Today, it has become a sales & service company for the food service industry and delis. I also had a snack food company called Oahu Plantation that did the old Chinese Pretzels, Arare, Mac Nut, and Almond Cookies. About 5-6 years ago, Pavy and I started a company called Paniolo Popcorn that we did as a sideline business. We were the first to bring Kettle Corn to Hawaii. Back in the 80's I worked part-time at World Airways with Lorna Mae, where I really got used to travel benefits and perks. Now, we are into cruising on NCL. First, we did the Alaska Cruise and Fred and his wife, Shirley, joined us. The last one we went on was a Mexico cruise joined by Kome and her friend. I have also been going to Vietnam because my second wife, June, is Vietnamese. If you don't recognize my picture it is because of all that good food I've been eating. Couldn't gain weight when I was in High School, but man, can I put it on now. Years seem to go by faster as we get older, so let's not wait and miss the opportunity to see one another and relate to old friends and Classmates.

After high school, I went to college, dropped out, joined HPD. I left HPD, went to work at Continental Airlines for 24 years, then to Aloha Airlines, and Signature Flight Support. I stepped out of the airline industry after 27 years and into personal employment. I've found that working for myself is much better than working for someone else. Currently I am the local Honolulu representative for Lifeline Hawaii a personal emergency response system that provides communication between elderly, frail, ill, handicapped, and shut-in residents and emergency response providers. Lifeline Hawaii covers the entire state w/representatives on Kauai, Maui, and Hawaii. Our website is: Lifelinesys.com

I have two daughters. Dyan, the elder of the two, is an attorney practicing Family Law in Honolulu, and Nani, is a Policy Advisor to the SOH Governor Linda Lingle. Both girls have done well and can hold their own against any man. Being a single parent early on, they needed to know it is a "Mans World," just in case I wasn't around to get them to adulthood. Essentially, they were taught to never take a back seat to anyone! I'm very proud of them and their accomplishments.

SANDY LEONG HEW

My family and I have been living in Davis, California for the past 15 years. My daughters both graduated from UC Davis. My older daughter, Carrie, is now in Germany getting her Ph.D in Food Science. My younger daughter, Jennifer, is living in Irvine and teaching 4th grade in Garden Grove. Both girls will be getting married next year. My family and I have been living in Davis, California for the past 15 years, where we settled, after Elton completed a career in the US Air Force. I'm still teaching English to Japanese researchers and their wives who are visiting UC Davis for two to three years and need to improve their conversational English. I've been doing this since our stay in Japan 18 years ago.

My husband, El, is still practicing as a periodontist, but is considering retirement soon. When we're not working, we enjoy fishing in the Sacramento River and in the San Francisco Bay.

I'm sorry I won't be able to attend the reunion. Have a great time and I hope to see some of you another time. If you're ever in my area, please call me.

WENDELL OGATA

In my entire career, I have done social work. In fact, Grant Merritt's father was one of my professors. For the past 20 years, I have been with the Queen Lili'uokalani Children's Center in Wai'anae. My wife, Lynn, is a resource teacher with DOE, and we have a daughter, 26, who lives in Olympia, Washington.

Lorna and I have been married for 32 years. We have a son, Christopher, 23 years old. He just graduated from Cal Poly, San Luis Obispo in architecture and will be starting his new job in Seattle (hooray - no more tuition payments!!!). No dogs, no cats, no pets, just some geckos around the house, either. Still have our country house on Maui which we were in the process of building at our last reunion ten years ago (boy, we're getting old quickly) and a John Deere tractor with which I dig holes to fill other holes. I'm an architect and we have projects in Hawaii as well as overseas in Asia, mainland US, South Pacific, and most recently, Central America. I'm still at Group 70 International since its inception in 1971, 34 years ago. I guess I'm supposed to know what I'm doing after all those years. Still doing a bunch of travelling to exotic places, the latest being Costa Rica, from whence I'll be returning two days before our class reunion (perhaps I'll bring some monkeys back with me to join us).

I am active in our church, Kaimuki Christian, where as an elder, I'm also supposed to know what I'm doing? Enjoying life and grateful for every new day! nhong@group70int.com

BARBARA BEERS

I moved to Vashon this year with my husband. I am no longer employed due to corporate outsourcing. The last day at my job was March 31 of this year. I have worked in various technical positions for the banking industry for over 20 years. EDS was the last company I worked with.

I have a 22-year old daughter who is presently attending the University of Washington.

ROBERT WEBB

I am a single dad, responsible for the upbringing of my fourteen-year old son, who is a freshman at Moanalua High School. I work as an auditor for the state government, more specifically, the Department of Public Safety, who administers our prison/jail program.

Since the good old days at UHS, I enrolled at the UH across the street and earned a BBA in Business Economics and statistics, an achievement that I am sure will sweep many of you off your feet. I then enlisted in the man's Army because the standards in the Marine Corps were not tough enough. Later, I served most of my active duty time in Vietnam and Germany. No, I did not see action like you have seen in Platoon, etc.

In November 1972, I returned to civilian life and worked several jobs for some stingy, unappreciative bosses. Meanwhile, I took advantage of the GI bill and enrolled in some accounting courses offered at night. The theoretical knowledge enabled me to sit for the CPA exam, which I thought was the cruelest test a candidate could take. I finally passed the bugger on my fifth attempt, just before I joined the civil service, beginning with the Board of Supply. Had I passed it before, I would probably have remained in the private sector, hopefully working for more generous bosses and living around Diamond Head instead of the humble Salt Lake area.

I had several interests but they have dwindled down to travel and keeping abreast with the SF Forty Niners and the Giants. Last year was a tough year for the Niners but they have one way to go, and that is up. The Giants, without Barry Bonds, have struggled mightily. Maybe I will have to be the new General Manager to bring them from rags to riches. I still watch some WWE wrestling. I don't think that the modern athletes are as colorful as those buggers of yesteryear, such as Curtis "The Bull" Iaukea, Ripper Collins, Johnny "Pupule Head" Barend, (The Missing Link), the Executioner (whom I happen to know was the second one), Hard Boiled Haggerty, Billy Whitewolf, Freddy Blassie, etc., etc.

If any of you single, heterosexual women think that I am capable of meeting your rigorous standards as spelled out in Dr. John Gray's book Men Are From Mars, Women Are from Venus, let's start the screening process. My son won't mind.

AMY AKAMINE CHUN

Since 1990, I have been living on the island of Kauai with my husband (Van) who is a Land Surveyor for the Department of Transportation, State of Hawaii. We have a 23-year old son who resides in Washington State.

After graduating from college, I've spent a total of 35 years in government service working first for the Department of Public Work, City & County of Honolulu, then the Division of Information Systems, County of Kauai. After leaving the County of Kauai, I worked for a short time as a Business Analyst at Wilcox Memorial Hospital and Kauai Medical Clinic, implementing and supporting various ancillary computer-based systems. I am currently working for an Indiana-based medical software development company (Isprit, Systems in Medicine) as their manager of Care Solutions and Support.

Along the way, I've had the good fortune to be able to spend time w/ my son in Washington State, shop in Las Vegas, visit family and friends on Oahu, and take business trips to various parts of the mainland.

LYNN KNUDSEN FRAGAS

No gray hairs yet. Few wrinkles. Can hike with the best of the experienced hikers over here and still be able to move the next day, despite recovering from a broken ankle (wonder if the plate and screws will set off the airport scanners). Lost Mom 1/2/04, sadly sold the family home for a tidy amount. It had been in the family since the 1930's, and I am wading through all the bureaucratic bull*#@^# so I can send for my kit home. I am waiting on a local architect to double check my home plans so I can submit them. When the permit and kit arrive, I will start building with help from friends. Nothing like hands-on experience to create your own home. Mom passed away 1/2/04 after a long bout with the big "A" (Alzheimer's). See me if you want to know every last detail about becoming a guardian and caretaker. I'm an expert. Daughter Nadine (Dini) is on her third career change after getting an Art History degree from the U. of Maryland, College Park (firefighter, paramedic, and now nurse). She is married and lives in Pennsylvania until her husband finishes his work apprenticeship. Then, they are out of there. Son John is currently in Honolulu doing Army National Guard instruction, teaching the poor guardsfolk how to survive Iraq or Afghanistan. He's one of our newest vets, having served the first 10 months of the Iraq war, following the Marines up through Baghdad and doing all the house-to-house stuff the Marines didn't do as they by-passed all those towns to get to Baghdad. If you are enjoying all the freedoms you take for granted, be sure to thank any veterans you run into. They go through hell, and not always for your benefit.

CARL YORITA

I was very fortunate to have attended Northwestern University as an undergraduate, and UCSF for medical school. I must be in a rut, as I've been in the same office for thirty years, practicing Internal Medicine. My wife is an angel, as she has put up with me for over 31 years. We have two grown daughters who are fine people. In 1976, I joined the Hawaii Army Guard as a Captain in a medical company. I transferred later to the Air Force reserve, and came out a major in 1984. I thought that my military days were over, but after 9-11, I decided to return to duty. They always need doctors, so if I get called up, I'll go wherever they send me. That is what it is about.

BRENDA TOM WONG

I married Dan Wong, a community college counselor, and have lived in Yuba City for 35 years. It is a small town an hour away from Sacramento. I started out as a Mental Health worker, became a High School Counselor, and then went back to school to become a special ed. teacher. I have taught Special Education kids at Yuba City High School for 24 years, and I love it. Mostly, I teach math. Algebra is the new thing. We have 2 children, Janelle and Jeffrey. Janelle is teaching at the University of Southern California, and has a 16-month old son, Evan. We just adore our first grandchild. Jeff just moved back to Hawaii. He is working at Kapiolani Women's and Children's Hospital. Imagine that! He has always loved Hawaii. The only thing different about me is that I have had severe Rheumatoid arthritis for the past 15 years, which has resulted in artificial hips, elbows, shoulders and knees. I am still (Thank God!) pretty much functional, so, I have continued to work, etc. I am active in our church and coordinate a food closet open to the needy every weekday of the month, except holidays. That's it. Hello to everyone. Sometimes I dream of high school and imagine how people looked when they were 18. Aloha to all. Brenda Wong

SUSAN NISHIDA STRAWN

My life's been pretty run-of-the-mill. I am an administrator at the same college where I got my undergraduate degree. I got a master's, went into a Ph.D program but never finished because it was interrupted by the usual—travel, family, elderly parents, etc. Actually, I like working where I do; we're a liberal enclave of rational behavior and politics in a city that's been branded the "Fundamentalist/Conservative Christian Capitol of the United States." Sad, but true.

CHRISTINE PARK ROBERT

Hi! I just learned of the reunion and am terribly disappointed I cannot go on such short notice- I would love to see everyone again! I've always wondered where we all have scattered .

I live in Taos, NM; I love it, though it has taken me 10 years- no ocean. It often reminds me of Hawaii- (or as Hawaii once was) with three strong cultures, a lot of tradition- haoles are the minority! I was married for 25 years and living in San Diego; but my divorce 12 years ago brought me to NM. I needed to begin over. So here I am; the proverbial middle-aged woman and her cat. I work in a bookstore (I still love books), and am a weaver. I have a very simple life here in this almost third world part of the country. My children are in their 30's and both are teachers. My daughter is in NM, and my son is in California. I am a grandmother. Evan, my grandson, just a little over a year old, lives in California.

If there is another reunion, I will be there!
